

WELCOME TO HackSConnect

HackSC is so excited to meet and hear your amazing ideas! We are offering you ways to connect and hopefully fulfill your goals for the future, even through hard times. From six to nine p.m. this is your chance to explore new ideas regardless of your feelings towards them, and it is the opportunity to shine bright for the ideas you are passionate about!

We have great ideas and companies attending, as well as a whole hive of bees! Be bold bees, if an idea strikes during HackSConnect, feel free to share it! All majors and ideas are welcome regardless of what stage they're at.

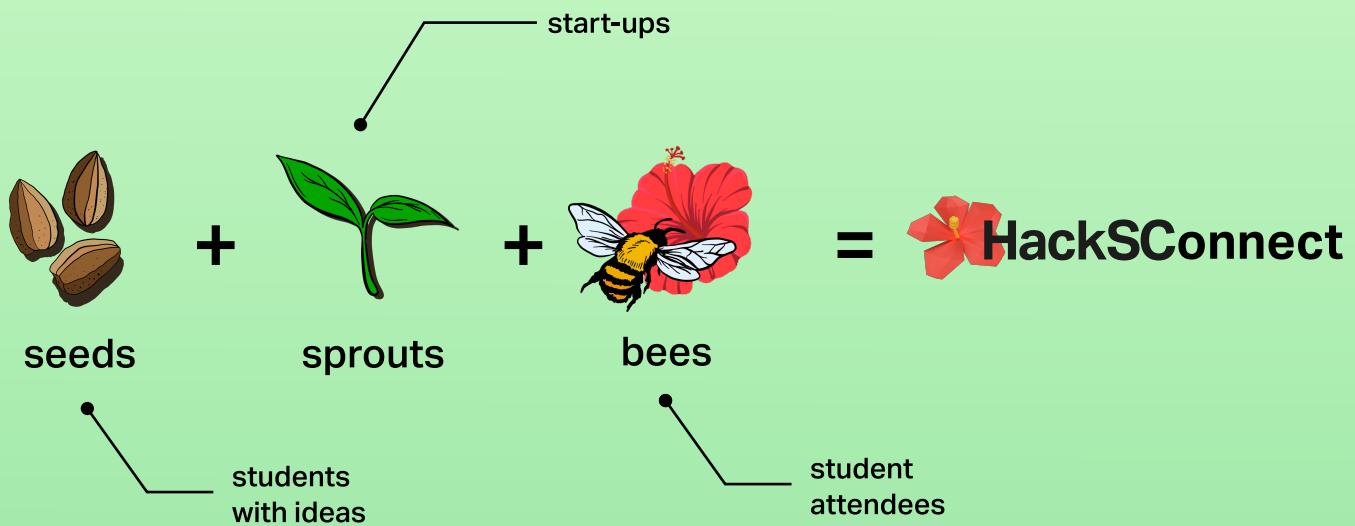

This is a place for everyone , of all majors and places, to relax, hangout, and have fun. The only pressure you put upon yourself should be your own. Look forward to reaching out to new people and companies because you've earned it. You made it to HackSConnect after all!

Spotster Innovation ●

Unpaid Internship with potential for equity and executive roles

At Rhepot we are working to create a People Powered Plant Network, aka a peer to peer marketplace for plants and seeds. The product has a goal to revolutionise how people find diverse plants locally, interact with a marketplace to confirm the plant is healthy and desired and lastly fight to transparently showcase what sustainability means - fundamentally.

Wise Runner ●

Most runners listen to music during a run. However, no market competitors use a runner's tendency to synchronize stride with music to guide the user's workout. We are using synchronized music, controlled by insights from coaches and researchers, to improve performance, progression, enjoyment, and health.

Peer To Peer Decentralized Payment System ●

Venmo had great success for their target audience in the US but failed to expand elsewhere. This leaves a huge market opportunity. My idea aims to take advantage of this gap and adapt the Payment Network to fit the audiences in Central and Latin America. In addition it takes advantage of blockchain technology (Xpring API) to use XRP liquid network as the backbone of transactions between users.
